2. Participant must create an account on raceid.com and register for the race "World Rollerski Week".
3. Participant must choose a team they want to support and fill up all the information needed.
4. Participant must pay the entry fees to be registered (cf. art. 13).
5. For the duration of the event, participant must record with a GPS device each rollerski sessions (both free and classic techniques are accepted).
We recommend using rollerski with wheels nr 2, equivalent or slower, as it is the material used by most participants.
6. The objective is to gather as much kilometers and elevation meters during the event.
7. After each session, participant login to their personal account on raceid.com and submit the kilometres and climb up meters they made, and the link of their session (Strava, Suunto, Polar, Garmin...) as a proof.

8. A team ranking will be set up based on the most kilometres gathered (DISTANCER standings) and will give points for the WCT TEAM ranking as a regular 200 pts event.
9. Each session will be manually controlled and all suspicious performances will be removed. The eventual participant concerned will be contacted. Only sessions with a valid GPS tracking proof will be accepted.
10. World Rollerski Week is based on a "gentleman sport" style:
 - declare and report only the sessions made on rollerskies.
 - Use the material recommended in point 5.
 - Provide a valid GPS tracking proof for every sessions.

Ranking and reward:

11. A ranking for the most kilometers will be set up, and the best male and female participant will be the overall World Rollerski Week DISTANCER.
12. A ranking for the most elevation meters will be set up, and the best male and female participant will be the overall World Rollerski Week CLIMBER.
13. TOP 1 male and female participant in overall DISTANCER and CLIMBER standings will receive a reward from our official suppliers.
